7. When a student exceeds 20 days of absence (excused or unexcused), the student may be considered for expulsion.

Tardies

The school staff, parents, and students shall make every effort to prevent tardy behavior. Students will be counted tardy when they are not present at the designated beginning time for school. Tardiness will result in a progressive disciplinary action developed by the school; the more tardies a student accrues, the more severe the consequences.

Elementary and intermediate school tardies and early dismissals will be recorded for each student who missed up to one hour at the beginning or end of school. Any time missed beyond one hour will be recorded as one-half day's absence.

Middle and high school tardies and early dismissals will be recorded for each student who missed up to one period at the beginning or end of school. Any time missed beyond one period will be recorded as one-half day's absence.

Truancy/Class Cut – Middle and High School

Truancy is defined as being out of school or class for a reason other than the reasons listed under the Ohio Revised Code (ORC). Truancy from school or from class will result in disciplinary action, which may include truancy charges being filed. A student who is truant from school or class will not be allowed to make up missed work in the class(es) for the truancy date(s).

Planned Absence – All Schools

It is recognized that circumstances may cause a parent to request that a student be out of school. A planned absence policy has been adopted by the Board of Education. Planned absences will be considered by the Superintendent or designee to determine whether the absences will be excused or unexcused (see Planned Absence Policy 5200.04). Planned absence days will be included in the maximum number of days a student is permitted to miss per school year.

Make Up of Class Work

The time limit for make-up work shall be one (1) day for each day of absence. The student may not be allowed more than two weeks to make up missed assignments unless an extension is granted by the building principal, who will notify the student's teacher in writing. When the absence is anticipated, such as for an operation, the student should arrange in advance for making up assignments and tests. Middle and high school students must take responsibility to contact their teachers for assignments and tests missed during their absences.

Absence Notification

Parents are to call the school to notify if a child is not going to be in attendance for that day. Phone calls will be received. Call the school attendance number and leave a message any time day or night.

Elementary School – Attendance will be taken at the beginning of the school day.
Intermediate, Middle, and High School – Attendance will be taken in homeroom.

The school attendance office will then compare the parent notification calls with the absence list shortly after the opening of school, and will then call the parents of those students for whom they have not received a call and who are reported absent.

Parents are responsible for providing a phone number to the school where they may be reached during the day in order to be notified of their child's absence from school.

Parents are requested to call to notify the school of a child's absence. At that time, the absence is verified. If no call is received, the school will attempt to contact the parent. If the school talks to the parent, the absence is verified. If the school is unable to make contact with the parent, a postcard will be sent confirming the child's absence.

For those instances when a school is unable to make contact with the parent to verify an absence, the child must bring a note signed by the parent to the school upon his/her return. If a note is provided, the absence is verified. If no note is provided, the absence is recorded as unexcused, and the student is considered truant. All notification of absence must be provided to the school attendance office within two (2) school days of the student's return to school. If notification is not provided within this time period, the absence is considered unexcused.

Revised 6/06

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) Notification to Parents and 18-year-old students

Under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), parents and students 18 years of age or older ("eligible students") have the right to:

1. Inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the District receives a request for access. Parents or eligible students should submit to the school principal (or designee) a written request that identifies the record(s) they wish to inspect. The principal (or designee) will make arrangements for access and notify the parent or eligible student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.
2. Request the amendment of the student's education records that are believed to be inaccurate, misleading, or violate a student's privacy rights. Such requests must be submitted in writing to the school principal (or designee), identify the part of the record to be changed, and specify why the record is inaccurate, misleading, or in violation of the student's privacy rights. If the District decides not to amend the record as requested by the parent or eligible student, the District will notify the parent or eligible student of the decision and advise them of their right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment.
3. Consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's educational records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent (including, but not limited to emergency, subpoena/judicial order, authorized state or federal education authorities, financial aid, etc.). Disclosure without consent is authorized when such disclosure is made to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the District (including health or security personnel); a person serving on the school board; or a person or company with whom the District has contracted to perform a special task (such as an attorney, auditor, consultant, or therapist). A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility. Upon request, the District shall disclose education records without consent to officials of another school, school district, or institution of postsecondary education in which a student seeks or intends to enroll including a student's disciplinary records with respect to suspension or expulsion.

Directory Information

The District has designated the following information in a student's education record as "directory information," and will disclose that information without prior written consent, except when the request is for a profit-making plan or activity: a student's name; names of the student's parents; address; date of birth; class designation; building to which the student is assigned; extra-curricular participation; achievement, awards, or honors; weight and height if a member of an athletic team; and a photograph. Parents have the right to submit a written request to the superintendent, within two weeks after the first day the student is enrolled in a school year, directing the District not to release directory information concerning their child. This written request should be directed to Dr. Bill Wise, Superintendent, South-Western City Schools, 3805 Marlane Drive, Grove City, Ohio, 43123.

The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20202-4605.

Military Recruiters – Release of Student Information Notification to Parents of 18-year Old Students

Both State (ORC 3319.321) and Federal Law (USC 7908) require school districts to provide student directory information, including telephone numbers, to military recruiters. As with student rights under FERPA, parents have the right to submit a written request to the superintendent, within two weeks after the first day the student is enrolled in a school year, directing the District not to release student information to military recruiters concerning their child. This written request should be directed to Dr. Bill Wise, Superintendent, South-Western City Schools, 3805 Marlane Drive, Grove City, OH 43123.
